

Desert Rose Selenite

Origin: Western Sahara Desert of Morocco

A type of Selenite and barite crystal

Chakras: Root, Sacral & Crown

Cleansing: No water. It is very fragile

Goddess connection: Persephone, Greek Queen of the underworld

Desert Rose selenite has a lot to say, its energy is full of movement and air, with a very potent cleansing action, it calls up small whirlpools of energy in the body to spin up and clear anything that does not belong. Its first communication for this course was of it rolling back and forth across the womb from left ovary to right, and as it does it collects debris and lower vibrational energies. Work with it by swiping or rolling it across the womb. It is a very balanced energy of masculine and feminine. Its energy first brings 'action' to support you in giving 'permission' to release painful trapped emotions such as grief, anger and confusion. And then sweeps in a calm clarity after the release which will calm you and bring self assurance.

Holding Desert rose brings you into its core fast and indeed your very own core, where it hides many mysteries to unlock, this is reflected in the mysteries hidden within the womb space where it ignites creativity when placed there. Ancient lore talks of a spirit guardian living inside each Desert Rose, there is definitely some special energies circulating inside of it to explore.

Activating the healer in you, moving its energy through the throat to open your voice, helping you communicate your thoughts and feelings clearly. It can activate inner earth light languages, and open the hands fully to channel high frequency through you for activation and healing touch.

Emotional Security

It is a builder's stone, building strong foundations of security and stability in the root up to the sacral, where it works on your self esteem and self worth. Desert rose reminds us that we have power, and this is why it wishes to focus on the womb with us because it sees and helps you unlock the power and wisdom in your womb. To be able to stand in your own power and not let the expectations of others hold you back or determine your own expectations of yourself. It encourages teamwork and community to help us foster healthy relationships and nurture friendships.

The most sacred work we can do is to take ancient pain and transform it into acts of love. - Desert Rose.

Clearing the Spine and Ancestral patterns

Its energy is quick, working fast to rejuvenate and infuse the aura with light to dissolve any densities in the body's pathway, it especially likes to focus on the spine, where it aligns the energies of the spinal column and base of the spine. It is one of the best crystals available for clearing congested energies or negativity from one's physical and etheric body, and for helping you consciously connect with your highest and greatest self, assisting us in the safe release of old karma and ancestral trauma.

The ancestor guardian energy is one of the native Indians, who believe this stone was carved by warriors who returned from the spirit world; the roses were said to have been spread across the earth to protect the spirits' homelands.

Releasing Grief

Desert Rose allows you to release all that is holding you back and deal in a calming way with any emotional situations including releasing and dealing with the grief of losing a loved one. It will assist you in letting go, and moving on. It's a perfect companion with Rhodochrosite, lepidolite, rose quartz and apaches tear.

Karmic Cleanser

It offers forgiveness, acceptance and healing through your emotional and mental body, in alignment with the karmic and cosmic records (Akashic) to unbind, release and remove inherited emotional trauma, patterns and triggers within the womb. It can also be worked to calm erratic behavior and emotions, to clear confusion, feelings of inadequacy, jealousy, doubt. It will help you to see into the inner workings of a situation to understand what is superficial and what's really going on at a much deeper level.

Divine light

Anchoring a divine light through everything it touches, stimulating it to cleanse and open, all earth gates below you to anchor your transmissions and energies fully into the earth. Desert rose Selenite with more white in it stimulates the clearest state of mind attainable, where all thoughts entering the consciousness come from the Source and are direct reflections of pure spirit. It shines a light into dark places helping you to understand your own inner process and to accept your hidden self.

How it is formed?

Desert Rose is formed from the earth's constant movement of water, sand and wind, this creates beautiful flower formations, reminiscent of roses.

Desert Rose Physical Healing

It removes toxins, assists with viral infections, stimulates vision, soothes the nervous system and helps recovery of addictions. Calms the stomach with travel sickness and nausea.
