

Axiatonal Line ALIGNMENTS WITH MAGNETITE

12 Axiatonal Lines

Level Two Lightbody

- Each Axiatonal Line is a corresponding dimension, chakra, chakra crystal and the frequency color
- These 12 vertical Lines create intersection points with the horizontal fields that project out the Chakra cone and where the DNA manifest
- Crucifixion Implants, though DNA mutation placed on 7D Female Left Side Axiatonal Lines
- Personal and Planetary DNA damage with 7D Ray, Axiatonal Lines, Ley Lines from Planetary Mind /Logos Invasion
- Crucifixion Initiation happens at 7D Monadic Body, remove implants possible

If you did the previous 12 week course, I introduced and we worked on these 12 lines through activations, so you may recognise this term. We continue our work on this system with Magnetite's energetic support. It is thought to have been known in the East for many thousands of years, but has been unknown in the West until fairly recently.

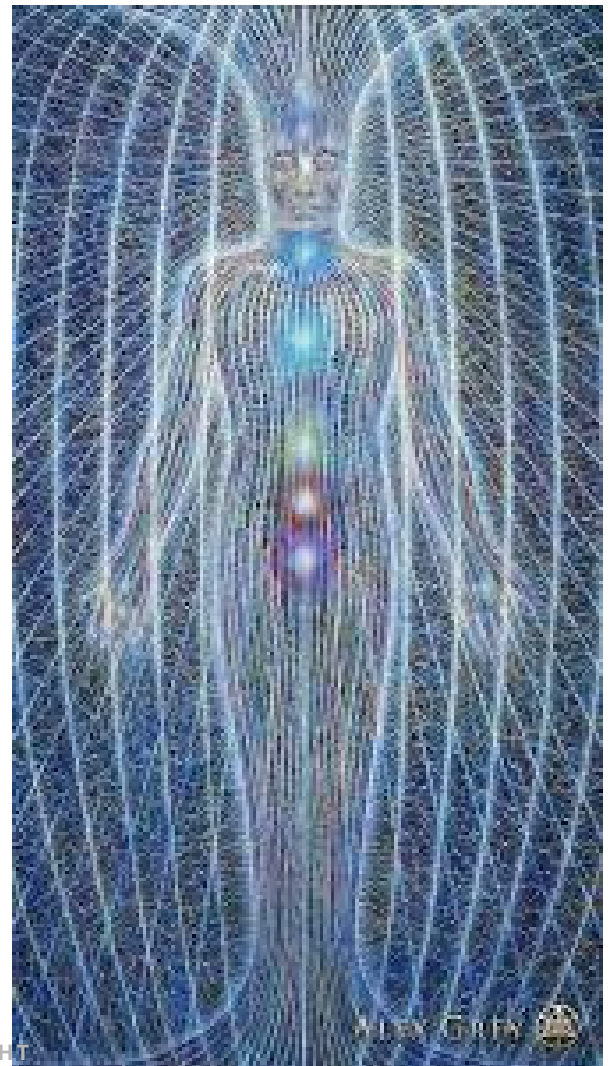

These Axiatonal lines lie along the acupuncture meridians, and feed into major spin points that lie close to the skin. These small vortexes of electromagnetic energy emit light and sound, which can cause the atoms in the cells to spin faster, creating a network grid of cellular regeneration.

These points feed into the axial circulatory system. Every cell in the body also has a spin point. The axial circuit connects all the spin points in the body (They always appear to me as spiral light coding) when connected and fully aligned and on line it creates harmony through this grid.

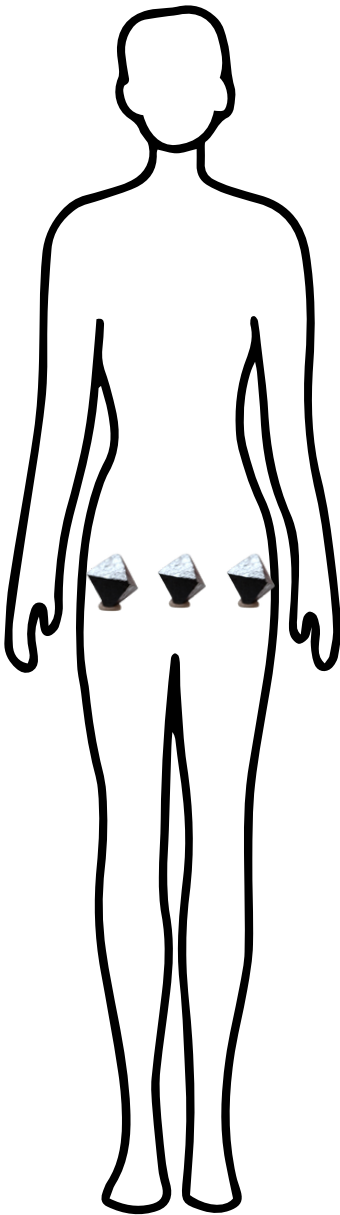

When we work to align this system, we connect to the oversoul level, which connects you to even higher levels of self. Where you can embrace your wholeness, and vastness as it manifests. This process helps us express the fullness of who we are.

By rejuvenating and aligning this system we allow separate aspects of self to experience divinity. When re-established the over soul (you) restore balance and re harmonize your body in accordance to the divine blueprint.

It also assists to clear negative emotional & mental patterns while balancing the masculine & feminine aspects of Self.

Releasing Trapped Pain WITH MAGNETITE

*Place the Magnetite across your womb in a horizontal line, if you can don't lie down - hold the Magnetite to your womb space.

*For this group the Magnetite wanted to focus on the womb space to unlock, disarm and support creation.

*Drop into your heart and your body with your breath, as we reconnect with our quantum chamber of light, calling in your sovereign connection to Mother, Father, God, Source, and your tube of light around you.

*Bring awareness to your womb space and feel it fully, breathe into it and allow your womb space to expand.

*Bring awareness to the Magnetite resting at your womb. As you do, it glows and vibrates quicker. Allow it to drop into your expansive womb and move their energy exactly to where they need to be.

*Call in your highest dimensional aspects of light, your Lyran aspect and Pleiadian council to stand with you to witness and support in all the ways they can provide inline with your highest and greatest good.

*We are transported to a healing pod in the highest angelic 9th Dimension as a white light portal opens in front of you.

*You allow yourself to float into that light, feeling its warmth, hearing the angels and knowing that you are held and supported in so much love.

*You come out the other side into the angelic plane where you are greeted by your Angelic team, Archangels and Seraphims. Feel their love and envelope you with light.

*They guide you to a healing pod and once inside they close the entrance.

*You feel your body attune to the high frequency in the space, hearing the angels sing all around you, their sonics bringing peace and relaxation to your body now.

*We ask that the Magnetite and the highest frequencies of the Angels locate acute pain in the body now.

*You feel and see the Magnetite moving through you to identify ancient stored pain. It will be in many places at once, multiplying, as it locks that pain in it's energy field to dissolve it.

*This ancient pain is given a space now to be seen and heard, what is this pain? Whose is this pain? We call forward those who have shared this pain to come close to the pod to receive healing through the beautiful threads of life that connect us.

*Healing source light is rippling from above and below, through all threads that connect you and these parts of you, ancestors and other star beings.

*We ask Magnetite to seek out the root core of this pain and trace back through all entanglements, any cords, threads of disharmony in my field, back to the planet and being of origin.

*We freeze this dissident, thread/cord/ connection and shatter it. It is no more, in the light truth and love of mother father god.

*All beings and parts of you that were entangled with this let out a cry of release as they are freed from this entanglement all the way back to planet and or being of origin, you feel or see them all release.

*Finally I ask the guardians of this course, the divine high Pleiadian, Sirian and Lyran council support the final release of any coding that needs to support my light expansion from this point onwards.

*I thank all god source beings, all councils of divine light, all archangels, guardians and angelic creators, the plants and mineral kingdoms and Magnetite, for this space, for their love and light, Anchor, lock and seal this work into my light body now.

*Feel yourself leaving the Angelic healing pod, connecting with that portal of light and bringing awareness back into the body with the breath

*Hold Magnetite in your left hand asking it to ground and securely return all energy and parts of you back into this present moment.

I AM grounded.

MAGNETITE

Chakra center(s): Base / Root / All

Elemental connection: Earth

Origin: New Mexico

Magnetite is a highly magnetic Iron oxide rock mineral, that usually forms in Octahedral crystals (as you have in your set). It's found in high temperature igneous and metamorphic rocks, and in sulfide veins. It is mined as one of the main iron ores on this planet. It's interesting to note that Magnetite has occurred within pieces of meteorite, and your piece of meteorite so wishes to be paired with this stone through our layouts.

HISTORY

Magnetite was originally called Lodestone as early as 1548, and other names such as magnetic Hematite. In 1845 it was given the name Magnetite because natural magnets (Lodestones) were known to the ancient Greeks, who called the mineral 'Magnet', as it was found in the lands of Magnetes (magnesia) in Thessaly. There is also a story that it was named after Magnes, a Greek shepherd boy. Magnes noticed that the iron of his staff and the nails on his shoes clung to a Magnetite-bearing rock. Magnetite is found in a wide range of geological environments.

Lodestone will attract small pieces of iron, this is how the first people discovered the property of magnetism.

PROPERTIES

It is a grounding and calming stone that deepens meditation by connecting and holding it in your hand, providing a strong grounding cord with the earth. They should be worked with after each session to instantly pull you back in, so to speak, especially after travels and journey work. It's magnetic properties makes it a highly effective spiritual grounding stone.

It's main focus and role, as brought forward by the guides, is to bring polarity balancing (as it has a strong positive-negative polarity). Creating a strong and clear resonance through your energetic field through all layers. It's magnetic therapy that will sit on your body, move around it and work on your energy meridians and biomagnetic field.

In essence what that means is this - it wishes to bring you in complete alignment with the earth's Magnetic north. At this time it is incredibly important to be able to do and continue doing this work, to sit with Magnetite in the layouts as often as you can is important.

It's creating harmony and restoring balance on all levels, through the male and female aspects of mind, body and emotions.

It has an incredibly busy and sharp energy, it's constantly on the move, working around and through you, it never stops. I often witness it multiply in the light body, as Azurite does, there is a great synergy between these 2 stones when working together on the body.

It wishes to re-pin light through the body and reverse any negative currents and programs that may have been running in your energy body anchored to any chakra centers.

It also is the stone to assist you in removing energy blockages, renewing and balancing the energy flow and emotions in the aura and light body. Offering a healing space for other crystalline energy to dig deeper (Azurite) it builds the strength and core grounding in the body.

In crystal body layouts or healing grids, Magnetite facilitates the flow of energy in the meridians of the physical body, initiates hemispheric balance in the brain, and supports alignment with the etheric body.

Magnetite aligns and activates the chakras and grounds the base chakra with Earth energies.

It will help you recognise dualities which exist around you, and removes old obstacles that have taken root within you - all the while whilst stimulating a fire in your belly to spark confidence and motivation.

CONNECTION TO THE BRAIN

It has a gift of bringing balance not only to the meridians and body, but specifically to the hemispheres of the brain. Scientists have even discovered evidence that Magnetite exists in the human brain. It will work together with Azurite on and around the Pineal gland to send currents that will revitalize and take away desensitization. Try working with Magnetite and Azurite at the third eye and crown together.

It helps us to release burdens so hold Magnetite and affirm:

I release all burdens old and new, past and present, all expectations, all responsibility, all so I can move forward in light.

It is a stone to support you in the alignment and flow of the universe (manifesting) by balancing your systems, creating calm and gentle confidence and motivation you gently flow to meet that which you need.

Trust - it teaches you to trust into your innate capacity and capability of inner knowing! Awaken your intuition further, supporting creative thinking and problem solving.

It's a trusted ally for helping you to release fear, anger, attachment and supports those experiencing grief. Magnetite is a very protective stone that will keep harmful energies at bay. It will tap into events that happen in your life to support a peaceful grounded outlook and approach to healing them.

ON THE PHYSICAL

Magnetite supports healing of muscular aches and joint pains, the blood (it's supportive of healthy red blood cells and in preventing anemia) and circulatory systems; it is also an anti-inflammatory and supports healthy skin and hair. It's helpful in balancing the endocrine system and lessening the emotional effects of hormonal changes such as puberty, PMS, or menopause.

IN EARTH GRIDDING

Place magnetite in or on the area of disturbed energy to support the healing of the earth and to support the ley lines. It will establish its vibration and instantly attune to the earth's electromagnetic field to support re alignment (as it does with us and our energy pathways)

Crystals to combine with it in healing work and in a grid are Black tourmaline, Obsidian, Jet and Smokey Quartz, in the case of this course, Azurite wishes to work with it.
